SMSC and British Values Policy

---

Updated Jan 2020

Ratified by the management committee 23rd January 2020

This Spiritual, Moral, Social and Cultural Policy includes reference to British Values as set out in Promoting Fundamental British Values published by DfE November 2014

The Children's Support Service is committed to the idea of education for all in a positive and supportive environment. The aims of the Service shape our holistic approach to education and ensure that all students have access to teaching and learning that is rich in spiritual, moral, social and cultural opportunities.

The service promotes a sense of responsibility and encourages students to reflect on their own learning. We seek to stimulate an interest in extra-curricular pursuits and support students' participation in community-based activity where possible. Students enjoy increased levels of self-esteem and develop transferable skills which prepare them for further study, success in their relationships with others and life in the work place.

All adults model and promote appropriate behaviour, treating all people as unique and valuable individuals. The centres are places where students can find acceptance for themselves as individuals and where the opportunity to start again is fundamental. Students learn to differentiate between right and wrong, and the ways in which their actions affect others. The CSS Behaviour Policy promotes and rewards acceptable behaviour and provides opportunities to celebrate students' work and achievements.

All curriculum areas contribute to the development of each individual referred to the CSS. They draw from as wide a range of cultural contexts as possible. This will be reflected in departmental planning.

Spiritual, moral, social and cultural development within the CSS is therefore considered to be an integral part of everything that is done to ensure that all students are given the opportunity to re-engage with education and eventually to become successful citizens.

AIMS

Spiritual development

The CSS aims to:

- Give students the opportunity to be reflective about their own beliefs, religious or otherwise, that inform their perspective on life and the way in which they impact on peoples' lives
- Encourage students to reflect on and develop what animates/motivates themselves and others.

- Encourage students to reflect and to learn from reflection.
- Give students the opportunity to understand human feelings and emotions, the way they impact on people and how an understanding of them can be helpful.
- Develop a climate within which all pupils can grow and flourish.
- Give students opportunities to reflect on their interest in and respect for other people's faiths, feelings and values.
- Promote teaching styles which:
  - Value students' questions and give them space for their own thoughts, ideas and concerns
  - Enable students to make connections between aspects of their learning
  - Develop students' ability to transfer learning skills
  - Encourage students to relate their learning to a wider frame of reference
  - Ensures this is developed across the curriculum.

Moral Development

The CSS aims to:

- Provide a clear moral code as a basis for behaviour which is promoted consistently though all aspects of the Service; enable students to recognise the difference between right and wrong, readily apply this in their own lives and in doing so respect the civil and criminal law of England.
- Promote racial, religious and other forms of equality.
- Give students opportunities across the curriculum to explore and develop moral concepts and values - e.g. personal rights and responsibilities, truth, justice etc.
- Develop an open and safe learning environment in which students can express their views.
- Investigate and offer views about moral and ethical issues, and give opportunities to enable students to understand and appreciate the viewpoints of others on these issues.
- Reward expressions of moral insights and good behaviour.
- Make an issue of breaches of agreed moral codes where they arise - e.g. in the media as well as in school.
- Encourage all adults to model appropriate behaviour, promoting for example, fairness, respect and integrity.
- Recognise and respect the different cultures represented in the school and wider community.
- Encourage students to take responsibility for their actions e.g. respect for property, care of the environment and of the local community, and to understand the consequences of their behaviour and actions.
- Provide appropriate moral examples through literature, humanities, sciences and arts.
- Reinforce the service's values through images, posters, displays etc.
- Ensure this is developed across the curriculum.

Social Development

The CSS aims to:

- Foster a sense of community in which everyone can feel safe, secure and happy, irrespective of ethnic origin, nationality, gender, ability, sexual orientation and religion.
- Encourage students to work co-operatively and use a range of social skills in different contexts including working and socialising with pupils from different ethnic and socio-economic backgrounds.
- Encourage students to recognise and respect social differences and similarities
- Help students to develop personal qualities which are valued in society, for example, thoughtfulness, honesty, moral principles, independence, self-respect.
- Help students to challenge, when necessary and in appropriate ways, the values of a group or wider community.
- Help students resolve tensions between their own aspirations and those of the group or wider society.
- Provide a conceptual and linguistic framework within which to understand and debate social issues.
- Ensure a willingness to participate in a variety of communities and social settings by volunteering, co-operating well with others, being willing to resolve conflicts effectively.
- Provide opportunities for students to exercise responsibility.
- Provide positive and effective links with the world of work and the wider community.
- Encourage acceptance and engagement with fundamental British Values of Democracy, the Rule of Law, individual liberty, mutual respect and tolerance of those with different faiths and beliefs.
- Ensure this is developed across the curriculum.

Cultural Development

The CSS aims to:

- Provide opportunities for students understand and appreciate the wide range of cultural influences that shaped their own heritage and that of others and to explore their own cultural assumptions and values.
- Provide opportunities for students to understand and appreciate the range of different cultures within the school and further afield as an essential element of their preparation for life in modern Britain.
- Extend students' knowledge and use of cultural imagery and language.
- Recognise and nurture particular gifts and talents.
- Provide opportunities where possible for students to participate in and respond to artistic, sporting and cultural opportunities:
- Reinforce the service's cultural values through displays, posters, exhibitions etc.

- Promote a knowledge of Britain's democratic parliamentary system and its central role in shaping our history and values and in continuing to develop Britain.
- Give opportunities to explore, improve understanding of and respect for different faiths and cultural diversity; to understand, accept and respect diversity as shown by their tolerance and attitudes towards different religions, ethnic and socio-economic groups in the local, national and global communities.
- Ensure this is developed across the curriculum.

Procedures and Evaluation

SLT

- Keep an open-door policy, which is supportive of staff and students alike.
- Ensure the fabric of the buildings is well maintained and welcoming to all visitors.
- Encourage the CSS team, including caretakers and administrative staff, to maintain an ethos and atmosphere, which creates a safe, secure and happy learning environment.
- Use initial meetings with new students to emphasise the responsibility of parents and students for their part in this.
- Lead the performance management review system, which gives open access to all for learning and development opportunities.
- Monitor this formally and informally by
  - Taking note of comments made by visitors, students and parents.
  - Students' and parents' questionnaires
  - A tracking system for past students
  - PM reviews.
  - A Centre-based discussion held annually to examine past achievements and possible new developments.

ELT

- Address SMSC in departmental policy and planning.
- Liaise with others to provide cross-curricular links.
- Monitor this through a departmental discussion held termly to examine past achievements and possible new developments.

SENCO

- Ensures that an infrastructure of Pupil Passports and reviews is in place and working efficiently and smoothly so that the more intangible aspects of SMSC may be easily assimilated into everyday routine.

All staff

- To promote and uphold the fundamental British values of democracy, the rule of law, individual liberty and mutual respect and tolerance of those with different faiths and beliefs.
- To actively promote the values by challenging opinions or behaviours in school that are contrary to British values.
- Enable students to develop their self-knowledge, self-esteem, and self-confidence.
- Enable students to distinguish right from wrong and to respect the civil and criminal law of England.
- Encourage students to accept responsibility for their behaviour, show initiative, and to understand how they can contribute positively to the lives of those living and working in the locality of the school and to society more widely.
- Enable students to acquire a broad general knowledge of and respect for public institutions and services in England.
- Further tolerance and harmony between different cultural traditions by enabling students to acquire an appreciation of and respect for their own and other cultures.
- Encourage respect for other people.
- Encourage respect for democracy and support participation in the democratic process, including respect for the basis on which the law is made and applied in England.

The list below describes the understanding and knowledge expected of pupils as a result of schools promoting fundamental British values.

- An understanding of how citizens can influence decision-making through the democratic process;
- An appreciation that living under the rule of law protects individual citizens and is essential for their wellbeing and safety;
- An understanding that there is a separation of power between the executive and the judiciary, and that while some public bodies such as the police and the army can be held to account through Parliament, others such as the courts maintain independence;
- An understanding that the freedom to choose and hold other faiths and beliefs is protected in law;
- An acceptance that other people having different faiths or beliefs to oneself (or having none) should be accepted and tolerated, and should not be the cause of prejudicial or discriminatory behaviour; and
- An understanding of the importance of identifying and combatting discrimination.
